With full approval and support of the United States, British forces advance on naval base at Diego Suarez in attempt to occupy the important French island of Madagascar, vital to adequate protection of allied ship routes to the middle east, India, and Australia. Restricted Credit Buying is Ordered by Federal Reserve

Charge Accounts Must Be Paid Promptly Under Board's New Rules

Washington, May 6.—(AP)—The government today put a set of teeth in President Roosevelt's advice that people ought to pay their bills and keep out of debt. With only a few hours notice, the Federal Reserve Board put into effect last night's ruling governing the credit purchase of nearly every household item except food, drugs and cosmetics.

Intended specifically to give force to the suggestion made by the president last week about getting out of debt, the rules were designed to keep people from using their credit to bid up prices that enter into the cost of living and also put more money into circulation for war bonds.

They provide specifically how and when credit customers should pay for everything from kitchen pans to clothing—46 items in all—whether bought on regular charge accounts or on the installment plan.

It was the first time that ordinary charge accounts were touched by board regulations. If an item on the restricted list is charged, it must be paid for by the tenth day of the second month after the purchase, or the customer's credit must be shut off on all listed articles. The penalty may be avoided, however, if the merchant and customer are willing to sign an agreement to clean up the debt in fixed installments during the following six months.

Installment Credit
As to installment credit, the new requirements are for larger down payments and shorter time to pay the balance. On most items, the rule is one-third down and a year to pay, except that, the monthly payment must be at least $5 even if that shortens the payment time.

Both the new charge account and installment credit rules apply to a wider list of articles than ever was covered by previous regulations for installment credit alone. Added to the list of restricted items were such categories as all non-military clothing, luggage, sports and game equipment, all table and kitchen ware, automobile accessories, bedding, linens, all household electrical appliances, yard goods and used furniture. These items were added to former lists which already included new furniture, clocks, radios, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, stoves, musical instruments, silverware and plumbing fixtures.

Cash Loans Held Down
Cash loans under $1,500 from banks or other lenders also were held down to a maximum of 12 months to pay, and in some cases 90 days. Former rules applied only to cash loans to be repaid on the installment plan, but the new regulation also applies to loans to be repaid in lump sums.

In applying the new rule on charge accounts, the board, in effect, counted past purchases of listed items as having been made today. Unpaid accounts involving listed articles now on store books must be cleaned up—or installment terms arranged—by July 10.

The War Today!

The fall of Corregidor at long last gives the Japanese use of the strategic naval base of Manila over which this little Gibraltar stood such gallant guard, but the delay imposed on the enemy program of advance by the brilliant defense of Bataan and Corregidor has been of inestimable value to the allies in the preparation of the all-important defenses of Australia and otherwise getting set for action.

Manila with its defenses was the barrier which the Japs had to crash in order to perfect their attenuated sea communications with the homeland and permit them to race onward towards Indonesia and Australia. Had they not been halted in the Philippines, Australia might long ago have experienced invasion.

Under the circumstances one finds it difficult to look upon the surrender of the rock of Corregidor as a defeat. Not only has it made an invaluable contribution to allied arms, but, as President Roosevelt said in his message to General Wainwright:

"You and your devoted followers have become the living symbols of our war aims and the guarantee of victory."

Surely the inspiration which has come to all the allied peoples from the defense of Bataan and Corregidor is a victory whose value it would be hard to overestimate. Wainwright and his men never had a chance to win through against the overwhelming striking power of the attacking Japanese. That the defense held out so long—through 28 days of fierce siege—is an amazing circumstance.

Blushing

Hillsboro, O., May 6.—(AP)—This town, noted as "Cradle" of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, was still blushing today.

A bootlegger's trial was in progress when someone discovered a juror was drunk. Judge George W. McDowell, red with anger, dismissed the juror, fined Farmer Matt Collins $100 for contempt and declared:

"Never before in my legal career have I heard of such a thing. This court has been insulted, disgraced and embarrassed."

Cairo's "Floating Terminal", Key

Inland Waterways Port, Destroyed

Cairo, Ill., May 5.—(AP)—The huge "floating terminal" of the Federal Barge Lines here, one of the key inland waterways ports, was almost totally destroyed early today by fire of unknown origin.

Chester Thompson, president of the government-owned company, said at St. Louis the damage was estimated unofficially at $100,000 outside of the freight which was lost.

Thompson said at least six loaded freight cars, besides other large quantities of goods, were destroyed. Two of the company's barge barges also were slightly damaged.

Fall of Key Naval Base on Madagascar Believed Imminent

United States Considers Action Against French Possessions in West

(By The Associated Press)

Tank-led British Commandos were reported battling French colonial troops on the outskirts of Diego Suarez today as Vichy reports indicated that the fall of that key naval base on Madagascar island was imminent.

A London communique admitted, however, that the British were meeting determined resistance and casualties today had been "heavy".

RAF warplanes dominated the skies over Diego Suarez, on the northern end of the big island, and British warships were reported in firm command of the surrounding seas.

The Commandos, leading the assault, had plunged 20 miles through the jungles against "stiffening French resistance" to reach the gates of the naval base.

U. S. Considers Action

Meanwhile, Washington considered a possible United States move against Vichy-controlled bases flanking the Panama Canal.

Malnutrition Fatal to Reclaimed Child

Chicago, May 6.—(AP)—Kathy Ann Johnson, 7 weeks old, whose abandonment April 2 in a New York department store resulted in the arrest of her parents, Kenneth and Marie Johnson, died today en route to a hospital.

The parents told Sgt. John Carlson that the baby had been ill and under the care of a physician yesterday, and that when her condition suddenly became worse this morning.

Dr. Paul Schmitt, coroner's physician said after an autopsy that apparently the baby died of natural causes and that malnutrition was a factor.

The child had been awarded to the parents following a series of court hearings on an abandonment charge.

Johnson, 25, and his wife 21, last April 66 agreed at the Chicago Detective Bureau to waive extradition proceedings. Johnson then was quoted by Detectives John E.

CORREGIDOR CAPITULATES

Uncle Sam's Heavy Bombers Destroy 65 Jap Planes in Raids

Lash at Airdrome North of Rangoon Thrice in Morning Forays

New Delhi, India, May 6.—(AP)—United States heavy bomber forces lashed at Mingaladon airdrome just north of Rangoon three times this morning, following up Monday night's furious attack on the same objective in which, American sources said, 40 Japanese planes were destroyed and 25 others damaged.

The land fighting fronts meanwhile continued to be still more distantly divided, with the British fighting a rearguard action along the Chindwin river west of Mandalay, aided by RAF bombing of Japanese barges on the river, and the Chinese far to the east opposing a Japanese force driving up the Burma Road.

A communique from the headquarters of Major General Lewis H. Brereton's command said three flights of American planes, setting a new pace in almost continuous long-distance attacks, set fires today which could be seen for 70 miles.

These attacks were a follow up to complete the destruction of a large concentration of Japanese planes marshalled on Mingaladon, formerly Britain's major air base in southern Burma.

How successful these successive blows have been was indicated by yesterday's official announcement that 70 Japanese planes were known to be at this field, and today's unofficial report that already 65 of them had been destroyed or seriously damaged and a gasoline dump and hangars wiped out.

Drop 250-Pound Bombs
Sweeping through heavy anti-aircraft fire and the attack of at least eight Japanese fighter planes, the big bombers today plunked 250-pound bombs into the center of fires and explosions set in the previous raids.

"General Brereton's heavy bombers again early this morning successfully attacked Mingaladon airdrome in the face of heavy attack and fighter attack," said the communique.

The RAF, timing its blows with the American attack, struck anew at barges bringing Japanese war material and perhaps troops up the Chindwin river on the Burma front 400 miles to the north.

Bomb Main Jap Base

The Americans met strong anti-aircraft and fighter plane opposition, a U. S. Army Air Force headquarters communique said, intimating that Mingaladon was perhaps the chief of all the Japanese air bases in Burma.

The communique said the first flight of bombers started many fires and caused explosions and a second flight increased the destruction and spread the fires so that a third flight observed flames at a distance of 70 miles.

While the weary British land forces continued a rear-guard action along the Chindwin, aided by the RAF bombing in the vicinity of Monywa, about 50 miles west of fallen Mandalay, there was no word from the eastern end of the Burma front, where the Chinese forces at last report were fighting the Japanese who had thrust across the border into China's Yunnan province.

As the main British forces fell back, a military commentator said that they might have to abandon some of their heavier equipment, but that they were in no greater danger of entrapment than for the past three days. However, it was conceded that the Japanese may eventually cut them off, despite the heroic aid of civilian pilots flying troops and civilians out in unarmed transport planes.

Cruiser Marblehead Brings Wounds of War Back Home for Healing

Washington, May 6.—(AP)—The United States light cruiser Marblehead, which the Japanese have several times claimed to have sunk, has arrived at an east coast port, the navy announced today, badly damaged and torn by bombs but "very much afloat."

The 7,050-ton cruiser has steamed half way around the world, making a portion of the trip with her steering gear disabled and sometimes barely managing to keep afloat, to "bring her wounds of war home for healing and testifies," the navy said, "to the struggles of captain and crew to keep their badly damaged ship going, even though water at times poured like a torrent through her sides."

The epic journey of about 13,000 miles was made after the cruiser was bombed, twice hit directly and once damaged under water by a near miss, during the preliminary phases of the battle for the Dutch East Indies when the Japanese were advancing southward through Macassar Strait.

Outnumbered Defenders of Manila Bay Forts Are Forced to Give Up Fight

Munitions and Food All But Exhausted Gen. Wainwright Asks for Terms: Gallant Stand Wins Tributes

Washington, May 6.—(AP)—Corregidor fortress fell into the hands of the Japanese the war department reported today, after being pounded into helplessness by unceasing artillery fire and bombardment from the air.

The surrender of the guardian of Manila Bay came after 28 days of siege climaxed by a day of constant firing which swept away the beach defenses and made it possible for the invaders to pour ashore from steel barges.

The tired defenders long had been cut off from supplies and reinforcements. Their gallant stand won this tribute from Secretary of State Hull:

"Corregidor and Bataan will live forever in the memory of Americans. They stand for reverses that are but preludes to victory. The heroism and glorious sacrifice of their defenders are the fire in which the soul of America is being tempered into invincible steel."

A communique said that one of the last messages received from Lieutenant General Jonathan M. Wainwright before the fall of Corregidor reported that casualties among the defenders were heavy during the last few days, and the constant pounding by the enemy resulted in severe damage to military installations.

Shelling By Jap Guns Disastrous

For the fourth consecutive day, there were 13 separate air attacks on Corregidor on May 5, Wainwright reported, but the shelling by Japanese 240 millimeter siege guns was more disastrous than the aerial bombardment. The final artillery barrage destroyed barbed wire entanglements and blasted machine gun installations and other centers of resistance, Wainwright said, and the Japanese brought their assault troops across the narrow stretch of water from Bataan peninsula in a large number of steel barges.

Corregidor's guns replied to the enemy artillery fire and shelled truck columns in Bataan during the last day, Wainwright reported, but the counter-battery fire was severely handicapped, as it had been throughout the siege of the Manila Bay forts, by lack of aerial observation.

Heavy Pressure Elsewhere
Wainwright also reported that the Japanese had landed reinforcements in the vicinity of Malangan near Cotabato on the island of Mindanao, and were moving a considerable force in steel barges up the Pulangi river in Mindanao. Near Digos, on Davao Gulf in (Continued on Page 6)

Seeks Refunds for Consumers of Gas

Chicago, May 6.—(AP)—Attorney General George F. Barrett today began court action to force direct refunds of about $6,500,000 to 1,000,000 northern Illinois gas consumers, 800,000 of them in Chicago and the others in the Chicago area.

Although individual refunds resulting from a successful action have not been calculated, Barrett believed many would exceed $100.

Barrett's action was in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals where he filed an answer to a petition recently filed by the Natural Gas Pipe Line, a southwestern company. The Supreme court had ordered reduction of rates $3,375,000 a year to Illinois companies and the pipeline company asked that it be ordered to refund to the companies some $6,500,000 which accumulated in (Continued on Page 6)

Wedding Off

Peter Domma, 22, of Rockford, with two dollars and a car he had borrowed from a girl friend in Rockford several days ago, went to Amboy this morning for the purpose of claiming a bride, being married and starting on a honeymoon trip.

Raymond Cramer, of the state police, and Sheriff Gilbert Finch put a halt to all his plans by taking him in custody at the home of his intended bride in Amboy and placing him in the Lee county jail where he awaits the arrival of Rockford police to take him back to that city.

According to the report, the Rockford girl friend, whose car he had borrowed several days ago, became suspicious and asked the police of that city to apprehend him. She had learned that he had planned to go to Amboy to be married. He was held on the charge of taking an automobile without the permission of the owner.

Corregidor Has Taken Its Place in World History; Prime Minister Curtin

Canberra, Australia, May 6.—(AP)—Prime Minister John Curtin declared today that "there will be no dismay at the news of the fall of Corregidor; rather will there be a feeling of pride and admiration."

"The fact is," he continued in a statement, "that a very small force of brave men has held the world's attention by an amazing stand against the armed might of a foe greatly superior in manpower and machines."

"The government and people of Australia send to the government and people of the United States at this moment a message of congratulation and thanks for what their men did at Corregidor. The stand there upsets Japan's war strategy and gained precious time."

"Corregidor takes its place in world history. We had our Tobruk. America has its Corregidor."

"Standing to that spirit of dauntless gallantry we can not lose. Our heads are high; our hearts are not heavy. We shall go on."

"General MacArthur said when he came to our country that he would go back to the Philippines. That is a solemn pledge we shall most certainly help him keep."

Time-Table

(By The Associated Press)

A time-table of the Japanese conquests of key areas in the Philippines and other theaters of the Pacific War:

Hongkong—Dec. 25.

Manila—Jan. 2.

Singapore—Feb. 15.

Batavia—March 5.

Rangoon—March 8.

Bataan—April 9.

Corregidor—May 6.

prior to the fall of Corregidor described the fighting on May 5 before the successful landing attack by the Japanese.

"Enemy artillery, including 240 MM guns, firing from many new positions, shelled Corregidor and other island forts throughout the day. Our guns replied with counter-battery fire and shelled truck columns in Bataan."

"Again, for the fourth consecutive day, there were thirteen separate air attacks on Corregidor. The artillery and air attacks were a continuation of the operations against the forts which began soon after the fall of Bataan on April 9. They increased in intensity as the Japanese installed heavy batteries on the slopes of Mount Mariveles in Bataan. The defenders were greatly handicapped in their counter battery fire by lack of aerial observation."

"Beginning on April 29 the Japanese artillery fire became much heavier and from then until May 5 there was little respite from artillery and air attacks. The artillery fire proved more disastrous than the aerial bombardment."

"During the last few days there were many casualties among our troops and damage to military installations was severe. The landing was preceded by a heavy artillery attack on the beach defenses which swept away the barbed wire entanglement, anti-aircraft machine gun installation and other centers of resistance. The Japanese used a large number of steel barges in the shore water trip from the tip of Bataan peninsula to Corregidor."

"General Wainwright also reported that enemy reinforcements have landed in the vicinity of Malangan near Cotabato on the island of Mindanao. A hostile force in steel barges is moving up the Pulangi river in Mindanao. Heavy enemy pressure is being exerted on our troops near Digos on the same island."

"2. Burma:
"General Brereton reports from his base in India that two flights of heavy American army bombers of his command flew through thunder storms to attack the Mingaladon airdrome near Rangoon in the early morning of May 5. A heavy explosion and many fires resulted. Aircraft on the field and several hangars were set on fire. Our planes encountered heavy anti-aircraft fire but returned undamaged. The flights were led by First Lieutenant James H. Keenan, and First Lieutenant Willard A. Fountain."

"3. There is nothing to report from other areas."

The doughty American-Filipino troops, who held the island fortress after the loss of Bataan despite sustained air bombardment and a shattering cross fire of heavy shore batteries from both sides of Manila Bay, finally were forced to yield to an overwhelming Japanese landing attack."

Laconic Communique
Surrender of the battered rock was announced in a laconic communique from the war department which said that terms were being arranged.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

MAYBE I shouldn't admit it, but there are a few things about this writing job I really like.

For instance, I like the part where... after all the writin' and the routine is done... I just set back and think about things in general. (Oh, yes, that's part of the job, too.)

Doesn't matter much what I think about. Sometimes I concentrate on one thing. Sometimes I think of lots of things, one right after the other.

Usually, when I get to thinkin', I send down for some beer. Seems a glass of beer not only touches the spot but it also sort of helps the thinkin' mood along.

It's such a peaceful, friendly beverage. Sort of honest and human. And it tastes good.

I like to hold my glass of beer up to the light and look through it. That beautiful, golden-amber color kind of fascinates me. Reminds me of the sunny barley fields where beer gets its start.

After all... when you stop to think about it... beer is a simple, natural thing. I read somewhere that all it's made of is good, wholesome farm grains and water and a little yeast... with hops for flavor. Nature's process of fermentation and the age-old art of the brewer does the rest.

I guess that's why beer is so wholesome. It really is the beverage of moderation. You just can't imagine anybody getting into trouble drinking a few glasses of beer.

And by the way, taking it easy and "just thinkin'" is fun. Try it sometime... quiet and comfortable like.

How does prize wheat or corn at the county fair get that way?

Sure, man-made soil improvers—modern synthetics—were added to improve on nature.

AND MODERN SYNTHETICS in Conoco Nth motor oil make it yield mileage that outscored all other brands tested in the sensational Death Valley Certified Competition. Five big-name quality brands got every fair chance against Conoco Nth oil. All were run till engines failed and none came closer than 58% of the mileage totaled by Conoco Nth... the oil you can have for your needed Spring oil change that's now overdue... the oil whose best known man-made extra substance—at no extra premium—gives your engine OIL-PLATING.

OIL-PLATING backs up the familiar fluid type of oil film with a surfacing of lubricant close-bonded to inner engine parts. Every cylinder wall, for instance, becomes a wall of OIL-PLATING that doesn't all drain dry during all the time you use Conoco Nth. Even after all-day parking, the OIL-PLATING is still up to the topmost piston rings, ready to lubricate before any oil can circulate. That's one plain way of foiling excess wear, and keeping up mileage with your engine OIL-PLATED.

But Conoco Nth oil also includes Thialkene inhibitor

... another synthetic... invented to inhibit or restrain the dangerous "jelling" of oil under excess strain. Engine heat and pressure can even gum up oil into something like fly-paper coating—only dirtier, and not much better for mileage. Against this threat, Thialkene inhibitor was created for Conoco Nth (U. S. Pat. 2,218,132). And Conoco Nth out-mileaged the others in the Death Valley Test—from 74% all the way up to 161%. You can get real optimistic about your own mileage. Conoco Nth will come through for you. Change at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

AN AMERICAN-BORN CHINESE WOMAN ADDRESSES PHIDIAN ART CLUB AT REYNOLDSWOOD

The Reynoldswood estate of Mrs. John G. Ralston was graciously opened yesterday to members of the Phidian Art club. Immense bouquets of sweet-scented lilacs and tulips brought spring indoors; and outside, the hilltop landscape presented a striking study of greening trees and early flowers, with the sparkling river beyond. The guest speaker for the afternoon was Miss Lynne Lee Shew of International House, Chicago university, an American-born Chinese woman, who gave her audience a vivid insight into the Japanese invasion of China in a lecture on "China Today in Defense and Reconstruction."

It was a black picture that Miss Shew painted of what may be expected by any country unfortunate enough to find itself under subjugation at the hands of the Japanese. The relentless attacks of the Japanese on China were not planned to merely stamp out the Chinese army, but to crush the Chinese people, she said.

Because Chinese civilization is based, not on the state or the individual, but on the family, the Japanese attitude is particularly diabolical and fiendish, Miss Shew went on to say. The invading army attacked and demolished all Chinese centers of learning, the vandalism being wrought because the Japanese were striking at China's second most vulnerable point, her respect for scholarship and learning. Japan fears Chinese culture and wants to blot out erudition among the Chinese people, in order to keep them completely under subjugation, Miss Shew believes.

Another insidious weapon of the Japanese in China is the use of narcotics. Men of learning have been persuaded to enter Japanese - established hospitals and centers for supposed inoculation to increase their resistance to diseases, but instead, their resistance is broken and they become narcotic fiends.

Three reasons for the Japanese invasion of China were listed by Miss Shew as follows: 1. To gain control over the entire continent of Asia. 2. Economic ambitions. 3. To subjugate and enslave the Chinese masses.

In 1936, Miss Shew said, the Chinese government required all Chinese to rid themselves of the opium and heroin habit. Capital punishment followed failure to comply, and all peddlers of narcotics were court martialed.

Entering a city, the speaker said the Japanese first drive out all inhabitants, ransack the homes for food and valuables, preferring total destruction to occupation, and converting shops and homes into opium dens. Refugees roll bedding and clothing into a perforated mat wrapped about a bamboo pole, the mat serving as a bed at night.

Miss Shew lived in an American colony, located about 20 miles from Canton, the last two years she spent in China. She was one of the workers in the Chinese Women's War Relief, an organization started by the women of China, July 7, 1937. Funds for starting the work were obtained by married women who sold their jewelry. The women stopped wearing silk costumes, in favor of unbleached muslin jackets and trousers. Muslim capes, painted with oil to protect them from the rain, were set up for tents at night.

"Unsung heroes," Miss Shew declared, "were the persons who would cook the best food they had, and take it out to the trenches for the soldiers." She praised the work of American instructors who trained Chinese aviators, and described the industrial cooperation centers set up by Edgar Snow.

The Japanese have always tried to kill the culture in China, the clubwomen were told. Universities have been burned, books were

Eva Lois Moore Is Bride at Ohio

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Moore at Ohio, Ill. was the scene of an early-May wedding on Sunday afternoon, when their daughter, Eva Lois, became the bride of Corp. Robert Karnes, son of Leonard Karnes of White-water, Wis. The Rev. Frederick Leeper, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church of Whitewater, read the double ring service in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bridal pair.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white dotted organdy, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses, sweet peas, and baby's breath. Miss Rae Moore, as her sister's bridesmaid, was dressed in blue dotted white swiss, and carried Johanna Hill roses.

Walter Karnes of Whitewater was best man for his brother, who was in uniform.

White wedding bells, festoons of green vines, sweetpeas and snapdragons, palms and baskets of blue hydrangeas formed the improvised altar, before which members of the bridal party took their places for the ceremony.

A wedding supper was served by the Misses Erma Ayers and Beatrice Boyd, immediately following the ceremony. A three-tiered cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, was the centerpiece on the dining table, with tall blue tapers in crystal holders at either side. Streamers of blue and white ribbon completed the decorative motif.

The bride was graduated from Ohio high school, Illinois State Normal university, and Wisconsin State Teacher's college at White-water. She has been a faculty member in the Bureau Township high school.

Corporal Karnes formerly attended the Whitewater schools, and is now a teletype technician in the Army air corps with the 58th Pursuit squadron at Dale Mabry Field, Tallahassee, Fla.

Corporal and Mrs. Karnes left Sunday evening for Milwaukee, from where they will go to Florida to make their home. For traveling, the bride wore a suit of beige gabardine, with blue accessories.

Out of town guests attending the ceremony included Leonard Karnes and son Walter, the Rev. and Mrs. Frederick Leeper, Mrs. Martha Klein, Miss Erma Guergen and Norbert Leeper of White-water, Mr. and Mrs. L. Norberg and sons Melvin and Ronald of Milwaukee.

A Thought for Today

In famine he shall redeem thee from death; and in war from the power of the sword.—Job 5:20.

God helps everyone with what is his own.—Cervantes.

Let's Not Wait Too Long

The demand for a second front against Germany, on the European continent, is mounting constantly throughout the United Nations.

There are millions, literally, who agree heartily with Lord Beaverbrook's passionate exhortation: "Strike out to help Russia, Strike out violently. Strike even recklessly."

The strategians, upon whose decision the fate of the world rests, are inclined to be cautious. They do not want to launch the decisive counter-offensive until the United Nations are equipped down to the last rifle bullet.

Perhaps the experts are right. Nevertheless, there are major arguments strongly in favor of the more daring course.

If, as in the World War, we possessed France and Belgium and Italy and Russia as bridgeheads for our Anglo-American invasion forces, we could better afford to delay.

But France and Belgium are occupied. Italy is an axis partner. Only Russia remains, on the continent, to keep the Nazis occupied and provide us with a welcoming landing place.

If we delay until Russia may be beaten, there will be no spot on the continent where we can plant our feet without having first to push the well-trained, well-equipped Reich veterans back from the coast.

Withholding no smallest iota of the credit due the Russians for their amazingly courageous and capable defense, and the winter's counter-offensive, we can still be realistic. Our experts are. Their hope that Stalin's forces can withstand Hitler's Spring drive is very small.

So we arrive inevitably at the conclusion that we are backed into a corner by the horns of a dilemma.

Either we must strike before we are thoroughly prepared, or we shall face almost insurmountable obstacles later.

The decision must rest upon whether the best-informed strategians conclude that our striking power—and our ability to transport that strength to where it is needed—can be expanded by further delay more than Hitler's defensive resources will be increased in the meanwhile.

Lord Beaverbrook, who might be expected to have accurate information, says: "How admirably Britain is now equipped in weapons of war for directing such an attack on Germany, I well know."

In all probability the United States today can equip as many well-trained troops as there will be shipping to carry to Europe for a long time to come.

If we intend to take the war to Germany, we mustn't wait too long.

We can't win by slapping the axis' wrist.

Hitler Is the Key

Keep your eyes peeled for a strong German offensive directed at routing the Red armies and knocking them out of the picture for years to come.

Russia, at present, is the most dangerous enemy of Germany. Therefore Germany will make an all-out effort to destroy Russian military power. If, on the contrary, Russia manages to knock out the Germans, then it should be possible for the others of the United Nations to get Russian permission to make a drive against Japan from Russian soil.

Japan—without control of the Chinese sea coast, would be a highly vulnerable country, just as England would be vulnerable today without help from abroad.

Stalin knows better than any one else that Russia never would be safe unless Japan is rendered unable to attack. Therefore Russia should not only consent to attack the third part of the axis, but also to permit others to use Russian territory for that purpose if necessary.

With Hitler out of the way the Reds will be able to defend themselves admirably against Japan, and Stalin is smart enough to know that it will not do merely to mow down the axis. It must be uprooted before the world can have a chance to function normally again.

Hitler's armies, of course, are the keystone of the arch, but German morale is the keystone of the German army.

Would not this be a good time for the United Nations to launch a peace propaganda campaign against German morale?

We do not know, of course, what form the proposals might take because they should be agreed upon in advance by the enemies of the axis.

But it strikes us that a mighty large number of German citizens would be heartily glad to get rid of Hitler and his gangsters if anything reasonable were offered to them, over Hitler's head.

Pass the Sugar

For various reasons it is necessary for the government to ration sugar—a thing done only in war time in a free country. Applications for ration book No. 1 are being filled out in schoolhouses throughout the country, and for the most part people are not only accepting the situation cheerfully, but with enthusiasm.

Sugar is mighty pleasant to have around, and some things just don't taste right without it, but we have read that the human being is the only animal that demands refined sugar in his diet; and furthermore, it is said the human being could get along without refined sugar.

But we are not asked to live without it. Many families have noted the amounts to be allotted under rationing, and have seen that the total is very little less than the family had been using anyway—barring the canning season.

If rationing sugar will help win the war, let's accept it cheerfully, and then we can get back to buying unlimited sugar again.

It's pretty doggone hard right now for a man to find a place on this earth where he can go to get away from it all.

News Behind THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON
(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., Reproduction in Whole or in Part Strictly Prohibited.)

Washington, May 5—Russian diplomacy seems to have been by far the cleverest so far developed in the war.

I have it on what I believe to be unquestionable authority that Stalin told the Japs before Pearl Harbor, he would remain neutral if the Japs attacked the United States. He also told the Tokyo government that if Japan attacked Russia, the United States would attack Japan.

By this smart maneuver and otherwise, the Red leader has avoided conflict with his natural enemy on the second front in Asia. He has created a situation you would not believe, if it were not obvious before your eyes!

We are warring with Russia against Germany and without Russia against Japan. Russia, our close ally, receiving substantial quantities of war materials from us, is not using them against our enemy in the Pacific.

Not only that, but Stalin has not allowed American military missions to survey bases in Siberia from which we could bomb Japan.

Consequently, we do not seem to stand a chance of getting those very important bases until Stalin believes Japan is ready to attack him.

Russia, realistic as always, is fighting this war for Russia, and thereby setting a good example for the United States, and especially for the little group of lovers of humanity here who live in clouds of idealism and expect others to do likewise.

The battle of production has been won. Few communities are issued from that necessarily secret front, but it is safe to say that both tank and plane production are running ahead of schedule.

In fact, everything is head except shipping. In some instances raw materials have been diverted from tanks to the shipyards in order to stimulate the lagging phase.

The deficiency is restricted to merchant ships. War vessels are far ahead of expectations. Admirals Land has placed the blame on several factors, shortage of steel, both labor and management troubles, and the fact that the program started late.

Thus, while we are demonstrating what the old democratic capitalist system of production can do in an emergency, we are unable to keep these materials flowing to the far flung battle fronts of the world at a commensurate pace.

It is not clear yet whether nazi peace feelers out of Bern and Stockholm are a result of the dearth of news among correspondents there working on space rates, or whether they were planted by nazi agents. The latter is probably true.

Hitler is feeding out peace-talk so he can turn around to his war-weary people and say: "See, I tried it. There is nothing left to do but pursue the war to the fullest."

In any event, peace now is out of the question from any standpoint. It would have to be based on the status quo which would mean a defeat for our cause.

Remember this, while searching for news from the all important convoy front to Russia:

The only sea losses promptly announced are those which would become known anyway, such as sinkings along the coast where survivors are publicly landed, or ships specifically claimed by the enemy.

The best authorities say, nevertheless, that our shipments to the Russian front are being maintained slightly ahead of schedule. Stalin complimented us in his May day speech for these efforts, the first time he has mentioned the subject.

Mormon missionaries back from Japan helped this government with plans for bombing Japan's industrial cities. These missionaries know where everything is located there, steel mills, foundries, oil refineries.

Similar information on both Germany and Japan is being gathered up quietly by the Board of Economic Warfare.

Engineers and business men who have done contract work in Europe and the Far East are being consulted, particularly those who worked on Rumanian oil wells, electric power plants, mills and foundries.

St. Anne's Catholic.—Special services honoring the Pope's silver jubilee to episcopalian consecration will be conducted by the Rev. Fr. Ronald French, M. A., at St. Anne's Catholic church from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

HERE I AM—WHERE AM I Ada, Okla., (AP)—Mrs. Ewell O. Taber of Kilgore, Tex., paid an unannounced visit to her two brothers and a sister who live together in an apartment here. Arriving in the middle of the night, she slipped silently into the apartment crept through the darkness until she stood directly over a bed and then screamed: "Stick 'em up." It was a good thing Mr. and Mrs. Nobel Lyde had a good sense of humor and no gun. 'Twas the wrong apartment!

Schools on Route 2 Out of Dixon Post Office Set Record

Enter in Defense Stamps Purchasing Contest in Carrier's Program

Thomas L. Jordan, mail carrier on rural route 4 out of the Dixon postoffice, has completed a novel and original drive in the sale of Defense stamps among the children in the six rural schools on his route. The contest was started about Jan. 15 in eight schools, where both the teachers and children cooperated. One of these in the area of the Green River defense plant, was closed, and a second dropped out of competition, having only children from one family attending. This left six schools in competition.

The contest closed Thursday, April 30, the Preston school, taught by Mrs. Inez Finch, winning with sales totaling $890.25. The total amount of Defense stamps bought by the six schools participating in the contest was $2,213.05. Schools participating in the contest and the teachers were as follows:

Preston school—Mrs. Inez Finch, teacher, Burkett school—Mrs. Orville Grove, teacher, Red Brick school—Mrs. Floyd L. Floto, teacher, Evergreen school—Mrs. Mary Wolf, teacher, Will school—Miss Julia Brechon, teacher, Eldena school—Mrs. Lucy Hibarger, teacher.

Through Dixon P. O.

Carrier Jordan met with the teachers and pupils, and suggested the collection of waste materials from homes, and various other means of obtaining small amounts for the purchase of Defense stamps. His plan met with the immediate response of both teachers and pupils and many are the stories of sacrifice in which the youngsters deprived themselves of entertainment and nice things that they might purchase more Defense stamps. All of the Defense stamps were purchased from the Dixon post office and were delivered to the schools after Carrier Jordan had completed his daily duties.

During the contest he collected and hauled to Dixon, the salvaged materials brought in by the children, which were sold here and the proceeds used in the purchase of Defense stamps, which were delivered the following day to the respective schools. Carrier Jordan estimates that about $300 was raised by the sale of paper and magazines alone.

The school children constructed make-shift wagons which soon needed side boards to haul their collections to the schools, and Jordan soon found that he could no longer collect the material and salvage dealer's trucks made trips to the schools to haul the loads to Dixon.

One Boy Turned Janitor

One pupil earned $3 each month by performing the janitorial duties at his school and the entire amount was turned back to purchase Defense stamps. Others deprived themselves of candy bars and quit attending shows when in town, using the money to purchase stamps. One girl and her mother who had saved to purchase new spring coats, used the money to purchase stamps and were content to wear last year's models. Members of a 4-H club donated their total winnings of last fall for this patriotic purpose.

The teachers, parents and neighbors gave their whole-hearted support to the Defense stamp sales plan and the greater number of the pupils insist that they will continue the collection and sale of waste materials during the summer to swell the amount of stamps purchased to date. This was the spirit which prevailed among teachers and pupils in the schools which were not first place winners.

Winners To Get Reward

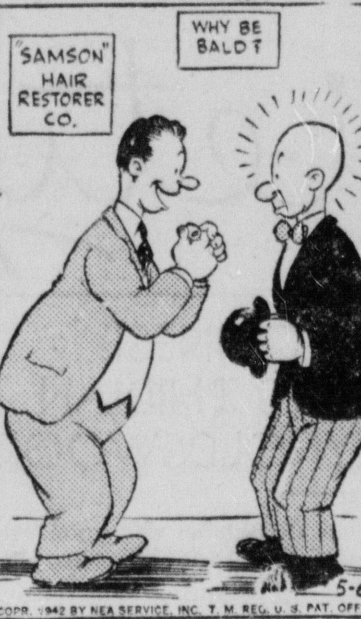

The teacher, Mrs. Finch and her pupils of the Preston school are to receive for their recognition of having topped the list of schools on Carrier Jordan's route, a generous supply of ice cream on the occasion of the annual school picnic on May 24. Carrier Jordan will personally see to it that the first place winners are generously supplied with ice cream which he will provide.

Commenting upon the success of his novel undertaking, Jordan told an Evening Telegraph reporter today:

"Several times at meetings of different kinds, which I have attended in recent years, I have often heard some pessimistic orator claim that the present day American youth is not to be compared to former generation in patriotism. I never could agree with them, and if any of that mind could see these school children daily hauling to their respective schools, loads of paper and junk to be sold, and the proceeds used for the purchase of Defense stamps, together with the many other sacrifices that I know they made, I am sure that the same speakers would join with me today in saying that American youth of today will save America."

"I want to take this opportunity to thank the children, their parents and the teachers of the school districts for their interest, and equal credit goes to each of them, knowing that in many instances it was more of a sacrifice to purchase one dollar's worth of Defense stamps than in other cases it was to purchase $10 worth."

BABY CHAON

(Telegraph Special Service) West Brooklyn, May 6—A baby boy born to Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Chaon of West Brooklyn at the Sublette hospital Tuesday morning, passed away shortly after noon and was buried in St. Mary's Catholic cemetery here this morning. Two sisters, Donna and Paula, survive, together with the parents.

JOHN B. FORD

John B. Ford, Dixon's last veteran of the Civil War and its oldest citizen, passed away at 2:30 o'clock this morning at the home of his son, William G. Ford, 305 East Fellows street, here he had been slowly slipping to rest for the past several days. Funeral services will be held at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon at the William Ford home. The Reverends L. E. Connor and Allan McLain, will officiate, and burial will be in Oakwood cemetery. Dixon post No. 12, American Legion will provide a guard of honor and firing squad.

John Baymont Ford, known to hundreds of Dixon friends as simply "Dad," was born at White Horse Tavern, a hostelry operated by his father and mother, John and Keziah Davis Ford, near Phoenixville, Penna., April 15, 1845 and enlisted in the Union army in 1861 when he was but sixteen years of age, two years short of the required age. He saw 18 months of service at pay of $13 a month, and except for a slight wound from a piece of shell which grazed his left cheek, he escaped injury in the conflict. He was the youngest and smallest man in his company and was chosen by its commander, Capt. Fred A. Kortia, to act as his orderly.

He saw Lincoln and Grant on several occasions. Lincoln "Always shook hands with everybody and was an awfully nice man," he said, and Grant gave him cigars that were "so strong they nearly killed me."

The first time he went to the polls to vote was in 1864, when Abraham Lincoln was up for his second term. When he first arrived in Dixon, farmers' wagons were hitched to posts along the streets in the business section. Indians came to town frequently.

Prairie chickens, snipe, ducks and geese were plentiful in this section in those early days. Mr. Ford often said the happiest days he ever knew were those he spent shooting ducks down in Winnebago swamp.

Hunting and fishing were always his favorite hobbies, and for many years he was a regular attendant at Rockford and Sterling boxing matches. In his youth, sleigh rides, spelling bees, and singing schools were among his favorite pastimes.

He experienced one of the proudest moments of his life when he returned to Gettysburg in 1938 for the reunion of the Blue and the Gray. He was employed by an early Dixon carpenter, W. J. McAlpine, for two years; and worked at the milk factory for more than 23 years.

With Mr. Ford's passing, George Washington Ling, 66, of Franklin Grove, becomes Lee county's only surviving veteran of the war between the states.

Larry French Stars as Dodgers Subdue Cardinals 3 to 1

Catcher Mickey Owen Comes Out of Dark to Share Spotlight in Aiding Brooklyn to Obtain Winning Runs

(By Associated Press)
The headlines today all acclaim laughing Larry French as the star of the Brooklyn Dodgers' 3-1 conquest of the St. Louis Cardinals and the attention is well deserved. The affable lefthander, who will be 33 years old in the fall and is approaching the end of the line in the major leagues, outpitched young Howard Pollet in a sizzling struggle at St. Louis. He not only hurled four-hit ball that should have netted a shutout, but he twice singled home Dodger runs including the one that broke a tie in the 11th inning. But the forgotten man in the Brooklyn rejoicing was catcher Mickey Owen. The little dynamo who caught 128 games last year and helped guide Whit Wyatt and Kirby Higbe to 22 victories apiece has been in eclipse this spring.

It hasn't been because he dropped that infamous third strike in the World Series. Rather it has been because the Dodgers acquired two additional, and better hitting, backstops in Billy Sullivan and rookie Cliff Dapper. As a result Owen had worked only 45 2-3 innings in eight games until yesterday, when he got the call against his former St. Louis teammates.

Although a .188 hitter, Owen seized upon his opportunity and made two of Brooklyn's seven hits. One lead to the winning runs in the 11th. The Pittsburgh Pirates, who had crept within a half game of first place in the National League during the Dodgers' slump, were walloped 7-1 by the Boston Braves, who made 16 hits, including four by former Pirate Paul Waner, and had the benefit of six-hit pitching by Jim Wallace, a cherubic youngster just recalled from Hartford of the Eastern League.

Bucky Walters, who had lost four straight, pitched the Cincinnati Reds to a 2-1 ten-inning decision over the New York Giants. He and Hal Schumacher each allowed five hits, but three of the Reds were successive singles in the tenth—with Walters getting the first.

The Phils beat the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, taking advantage of five walks, five stolen bases and three errors, plus nine hits. The Boston Red Sox staggered the Cleveland Indians into their third straight defeat, 13-3, by collecting 18 hits for 28 total bases. The tribe contributed four errors and could do little with the dozen hits wielded by Boston's Ken Chase.

Joe DiMaggio had himself a day at Yankee Stadium, hitting two home runs and a triple to drive New York to a 5-4 triumph over the Chicago White Sox and lift the world champions back into second place in the American League. The Sox scored all their runs in the first three innings, then were held to one hit by reliever artist Hank Borowy. After DiMaggio had put the Yanks back in the game with his homers, he tripled the winning run across in the tenth.

The victory set the stage for a two-game series opening today with first place the prize. The Detroit Tigers were herded out of second by the three-hit hurling of Russ Christopher as the Philadelphia Athletics won, 2-1.

Washington beat the St. Louis Browns, 5-3, although held to five hits. The Browns made four errors. The three never gave matched strides in the same race and ancient Pinlico thus gains for a certain raiser to Saturday's Preakness was Santa Anita lost when its $100,000 handicap was blacked out by the war.

The Dixie shaped up as one of the year's headline attractions, bringing together a group of horses which has accounted for 58 major stakes and earned more than a million dollars altogether. Warren Wright's Whirlaway won the "triple crown," three-year-old championship and "horse of the year" title last year. Maryland-bred Challedon, owned by W. L. Brann, was "horse of the year" in 1939 and 1940 while C. S. Howard's Mioland is the west coast champion.

Opposing them in the Dixie are John L. Sullivan's Air Master, E. C. Hackney's Sir Alfred, H. C. Hatch's Filisteo, Col. E. R. Bradley's Best Seller, Brann's Pictor, the Greentree Stable's Century Note, Mrs. Parker Coming's Attention and Alfred Vanderbilt's Impound.

Rigney, Sox Hurler, Gets New Draft Rating of 1-A

Chicago, May 6.—(AP)—Chicago's luckless White Sox, who have lost 177 games this season—nine by one run—still are on the hunt for a hard hitting outfielder. Mrs. Grace Comiskey, the club president, said today, "We've been doing everything possible to get some help," she said. "But because of the war, making deals isn't as easy as it used to be. The teams are keeping extra players around for protection in the event others are called for military service."

The Sox themselves soon may have to part with Johnny Rigney's services. Ordered re-examined recently by his draft board, the pitcher last night was reclassified 1-A. He had been placed in 4-F last June after his rejection by army physicians after reporting for induction.

Manager Jimmy Dykes meanwhile, has decided to do some wholesale benching of his athletes. After yesterday's defeat at New York, Dykes said an entirely new infield of Murrell Jones, Jimmy Webb, Leo Wells and Dario Lodigiani would face Boston today.

SPRINGFIELD AND CEDAR RAPIDS REMAIN ON TOP IN THREE-EYE LEAGUE

(By The Associated Press)
Springfield and Cedar Rapids, the two undefeated leaders in the young Three Eye League season, are employing contrasting methods in recording their victories—but both are working.

Last night Cedar Rapids again came up with fine pitching and blanked Decatur, 2-0, on Reigel's three-hit performance. It was the Iowan's second win in two starts. They have allowed the opposition a total of one run in those games, meanwhile getting six themselves.

Springfield's two victories have resulted chiefly from slugging. The first was a 17-3 decision over Madison and last night it was an 8-6 verdict over the same club. In last night's other game Evansville scored its first triumph by turning back Waterloo, 9 to 1.

Ex-Champ to Meet a Local Cue Star at John Vaile's

Chamaco Also to Display Series of Fancy Shots

Joe Chamaco, 1939 world champion at three cushion billiards, and holder of the world's high run record of 18 in championship competition will be the next star on deck to appear in the series of winter and spring exhibitions being staged at the John Vaile Billiard Parlor, when he meets one of Dixon's local cue stars, Friday, May 8, at 7:45 p.m.

Chamaco is one of the most colorful cue experts in the game, possessing a dynamic stroke, and capable of essaying a great number of unusual shots practically unknown to the average player.

Chamaco is the champion of Mexico at all forms of billiards, is also champion of South America, and Cuba at three cushions, plays a fair game of pocket-billiards and snooker.

Following the match, Chamaco will give a display of fancy shots which will make angle lovers hang onto their seats. In three seasons Hoppe has barely managed to nose out Chamaco, defeating him four, two and one points respectively in their last three meetings. Joe also holds the world record for high single average of 50 points in 23 innings.

This match and exhibition is absolutely free to the fans; but seating capacity is limited, so all those desirous of attending should call in for a reservation.

Daughter of Dixon Woman Injured in Three-Auto Crash

Mrs. Edward Bartel of Sterling, daughter of Mrs. William Callahan of 424 Galena avenue, sustained lacerations and contusions, and Mr. Bartel suffered a compound fracture of his right leg below the knee in a three-car accident occurring Saturday night, two miles east of Sterling on the Lincoln highway during a rain storm.

Mrs. Bartel has a laceration on her chin and forehead and contusions of the chest. Mr. Bartel also has lacerations about the face and forehead. Both were taken to the Sterling public hospital.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bowman of Ft. Scott, Kan. sustained the fracture of both ankles; James Cantwell of Beloit, Wis., has a basal skull fracture; and Arvil Hall of Des Moines suffered a fractured left shoulder in the same accident. John Kennedy of Sterling and a soldier, en route from California to Ohio, escaped injury. The three cars were badly damaged.

John Kennedy stated that he was en route to Dixon, and because of a hard rain and headlights of the Bartel car approaching from the east, he failed to observe the car driven by Mrs. Bowman until almost upon it. He attempted to pull onto the shoulder to the left, but the front end of his car struck the right rear end of the Bowman machine, causing it to swerve to the left in front of the Bartel car. The Bowman and Bartel cars collided almost head-on, and the Kennedy car continued on into the ditch.

He argues that the thing George Halas and Bob Snyder of the Chicago Bears have been teaching the Irish this spring didn't originate at Stanford.

So far 45,008 bats, balls, gloves, etc., have been shipped out... From the United China Relief headquarters comes word that W. C. Choy the Chinese Davis Cup tennis player who escaped from Hong Kong after the Japs took the city, is planning exhibition matches in hunking and in India to raise money for relief... When a pin boy at a San Diego, Calif., bowling emporium complained the other day that someone was breaking the rules by throwing three or four balls in one frame, the floorman investigated and discovered it was twins who bowled in order on the same team.

Cubs Drop Series to the Phillies

Chicago, May 5.—(AP)—Johnny Podgajny, always a Chicago Cub nemesis, defeated the Bruins today and the 4 to 2 triumph gave the Philadelphia Phillies the series, two games to one. Podgajny yielded 10 hits, one more than Claude Passeau allowed, but kept the Cub blows well scattered. This Phils took advantage of bases on balls, errors and five stolen bases in their run making. What You Buy With WAR BONDS

When the "black-out" sirens scream there is a lot of preparation made for safety of the civilians. An important cog in this protective set-up are the sound locators. They are the ears of the anti-aircraft batteries.

Even a small town or community can buy one of these for the safety, for they cost about $20 each or the equivalent of 267 U. S. War Bonds at $18.75. Buy War Bonds every pay day and top your county quota.

Had Operation

This community was shocked Sunday morning when it was made known that it was necessary to take John Myers to the Ambroy hospital for an operation. PLEDGE FOR REGULAR INVESTMENT IN DEFENSE SAVINGS BONDS

NOTE—This is not an order form. The Signer will buy Defense Savings Bonds by one of the methods listed below:

To aid the National Defense, I pledge that,

I will invest the sum of $_____ in Defense Savings Bonds (or Stamps) each _____ week. _____ month.

I will buy these Bonds: ☐ From a post office, bank, or other sales agency.

Shown above is the card that a Minute-Man worker will give you to sign next Monday. Read it over and shout with pride! Imagine a citizen in Nazi Germany being handed such a card and being given the privilege of pledging to buy bonds only if he is "financially able to do so."

That priceless privilege which you have of "writing your own ticket" is certainly WORTH PAYING FOR—and paying plenty!

Please remember, IF YOU ARE ALREADY BUYING BONDS, this card is merely to complete the records, and when you sign it you will NOT be making an additional pledge.

In the top line, "$_____" be sure to insert a definite sum and check the period for each payment on a Bond. IT'S REGULARITY that counts. It's not enough to get a patriotic fever, rush down and buy a fifty-dollar Bond, and then let the fever burn out for a year. Instead, sign up for, say, $1.50 per week regularly, and at the end of the year you will have invested in a one-hundred dollar Bond! (Cost, $75.00).

Quick arithmetic, for a few million workers DOING THIS VERY THING, will show a victorious answer!

IF YOU ARE NOW BUYING BONDS through a Payroll allotment plan, be sure and INDICATE THIS in the proper place—and give your employer's name. This will give credit to him for participation.

By the way—hats off to the Dixon Council of Christian Education, whose financial campaign is about to start! They have joined the War Bond drive in two ways: Solicitation for the Council's drive is being suspended May 11, and most of their solicitors are going out as Volunteer Minute-Men on the War Bond effort.

In all, three hundred Volunteer Minute-Men will be making their pledges, and giving their time for this cause—all you are asked is to be at home MONDAY EVENING, MAY 11 to loan some of your money—IT'S YOUR MOVE!

Priorities for All Hospitals Accorded by Production Body

Chicago, May 6—(AP)—The Tri-State Hospital Assembly was told today a plan was in effect to extend preferential priorities treatment not only to repairs and maintenance of hospitals but to all necessities for normal operations.

The plan was outlined in an address prepared for delivery by Dr. James A. Crabtree, executive secretary, health and medical committee, Office of Defense Health and Welfare Services, Washington. "Today a reference rating may be obtained for any new or expanded facility, public or private merely by establishing through competent authority, the public health necessity for such expansion or new facility," Dr. Crabtree said.

"Appropriate technical advice is available to the War Production Board for making determinations of the public health necessity involved. As the war continues, the hospitals will be called upon increasingly to do more and more on less and less. Through their traditional ingenuity they will measure up to the job."

About 3,000 members of the medical and allied professions were expected at the 13th annual assembly sponsored by the hospital associations of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. Sessions will run through Friday.

All British warplanes are now camouflaged so identically that a template is used for every type of plane, the belly and lower wing undersurfaces being painted a neutral gray to blend with the sky while in flight.
